Sunset School Purchase To go on April 14 Ballot

Financial Firm Gives Report on Sunset Site

The report of Stone and Youngberg, the municipal financing consultants hired by the city to study the feasibility of the acquisition of the Sunset School site, was presented last night to the City Council.

Briefly the report states that the city may, if the voters choose to do so, purchase the site by the issuance of bonds which can be paid off with the proceeds of the hostelry tax and not raise the taxes in Carmel. By law, not less than half of the proceeds from the hostelry tax must be used for the acquisition of parks and recreation lands. But the tax last year brought in over $72,500 from a total of 914 transient units. At present there are approximately another 100 units under construction, the report points out. Even if the revenue from the tax does not increase, there is still approximately $36,250 annually which could be used for the acquisition of the school site.

On this basis, the report concludes, the city can issue general obligation bonds to be paid off on a 25-year schedule and not raise the tax rate one cent to accomplish the purchase.

Deliberately confined to scrutinizing only the possibility of purchasing the site, the report alluded to a recently formed steering committee of citizens with the avowed purpose of providing an arts and music center for the city.

The committee (see separate story) could, if the city agrees, construct a cultural center, the report states. However, the financial firm points out, the construction of such a center is a separate problem to be considered in the future, after the site is acquired.

Carmel's city council last night moved to bring to the voters of Carmel, at the April 14 election the question of whether or not they want to acquire Sunset School for a community and cultural center.

After receiving, and adopting the favorable report of the firm of financial consultants assigned to study the matter, the move to take the question to the voters was made, on finding that the city can acquire the property without any increase in taxes. (See adjoining story).

Mayor Eben Whittlesey stated that the chance to acquire the site was "A challenge and an opportunity to the city. This is the first and necessary step in implementing the design of the city's master plan as it applies to a community center."

Councilman Frank Putnam asserted, "This is the greatest thing that ever happened to Carmel, and all of the parliamentary maneuvering (during the council discussion of the matter) was to insure that the matter will be adopted by the voters of the city on April 14."

At one point in the debate concerning the exact wording of the ordinance, Gunnar Norberg was speaking when he was interrupted by Councilman Putnam's addressing the chair with a point of order. He said, "If this is to be a forum for political aspirants, then I demand that all political aspirants for the post of city councilman have the same opportunity." Norberg withdrew from the discussion.

Councilman James Buffington said he was, "very pleased with this report. It appears this can be accomplished without a burden to our citizens. I look upon this very favorably."

Earlier, the council had voted to return to committee for re-

Arts Center Group Ready to Incorporate

Incorporation of the CARMEL ARTS AND MUSIC CENTER will go forward at an early date according to Mrs. W. E. van Loben Sels, Chairman of the Steering Committee which seeks to incorporate the Sunset School into an art center for the Monterey Peninsula, subject to the approval of the Carmel City fathers.

The Steering Committee embraces leaders in a diversified field of arts and music including the American Federation of Arts, The Carmel Art Association, The Bach Festival, Monterey County Symphony and the Symphony Guild, Carmel Music Society, Committee for the Festival Theater and the Community Theater of the Monterey Peninsula.

The meeting held recently at the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center approved a statement of purposes presented by the Chair enumerated as follows: 1) Leasing of the Sunset School site from the City for a nominal yearly sum. 2) Immediate acceptance of responsibility for running the enterprise as soon as the City leases the property to the Carmel Arts & Music Center, Inc.; 3) The development of the site as a cultural center for The Monterey Peninsula; 4) Financing to be derived from private enterprise and foundations at no cost to the City

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray to Give Book Review Series

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray will give a series of book reviews again this year on Friday evenings, March 13 and April 3 and 17, in the Church of the Wayfarer Fellowship Hall. The reviews will start at 7:30 p.m., with coffee and sweets served during the social hour following at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Kemper Campbell's "Here I Raise Mine Ebenezer" will be the subject of the opening program March 13. In this book the 75-year-old woman lawyer presents her life and opinions.

A first novel by a young San Franciscan, Virginia Lee, is "The House That Tai Ming Built," scheduled for review April 3.

"The Decline of Pleasure," by Walter Kerr, will be reviewed on the third and final program on April 17.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service is sponsoring the book reviews this year, with Mrs. C. John Viking general chairman. She is being assisted by Mrs. H. J. Danelz, co-chairman; Mrs. Larry Cunningham, president of the Woman's Society; Mrs. Donald G. Roberts, social chairman; Mrs. Gordon W. Lundeen, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Gordon E. Knoles, ticket chairman, and Mrs. Fred W. May, publicity chairman.

Tickets for the series are $2.50 and are being sold by committee members, at the church office and Monterey County Symphony Conductor John Gosling is praising to heaven presumably, the music of guest artist Helen Beyer at the Symphony Preview luncheon. With him are Mrs. Steven H. Sassoon, Mrs. Gosling and Miss Beyer.

Monterey Symphony Promises Rare Program

A rare musical experience is promised those attending next Tuesday evening's Monterey County Symphony concert when a 120-voice chorus will be heard, with the symphony orchestra, under the direction of Conductor John Gosling.

Debussy's "Three Nocturnes," "Nuages," "Fetes" and the seldom heard "Sirenes" will be presented. Mr. Gosling has assembled his female chorus after many auditions and concentrated rehearsals, combining the women's voices of his Monterey Peninsula College Community Chorus with a 90-voice Santa Catalina School Girls Chorus, trained by Mrs. Margaret Frainger. Under Mr. Gosling's direction the two groups have rehearsed together for many weeks.

Other works to be heard are the world premiere of John Cage's "Suite for Toy Piano" and Schumann's A Minor Piano Concerto. The latter work will mark the local debut of the award winning, young American pianist, Bela Szilagi.

Symphony officials report that tickets for the concert are at a premium, and ask all season ticket holders who may be unable to attend the concert to turn in their tickets for resale by Saturday of this week.

Old superstitious memories control our daily acts, from grandma's ancient remedies to fabled fishing facts. If on the first of March it blows, we look for early spring, and almond blossoms bring the crows if robins fail to sing.

We're still dismayed when spilling salt, or black cats cross our ways, and never step upon a vault except on funeral days. It's bad luck if we elevate umbrellas in the room; and shoes upon the table rate an early horrid doom.

A scarlet rag around the neck is said to cure a cold, and mustard plasters sure will wreck neuritis, so I'm told. A ed-hot poultice on the chest cures anything inside; so grandma's remedies were best — until the patient died.

Though doctors cost a lot today, and hospitals come high, I'd rather have these bills to pay than meet the cost to die. To superstitions I'm now hep, but let me warn you, Jack — I never knowingly will step upon a sidewalk crack.

Alcoholics Authority to Speak Here March 9

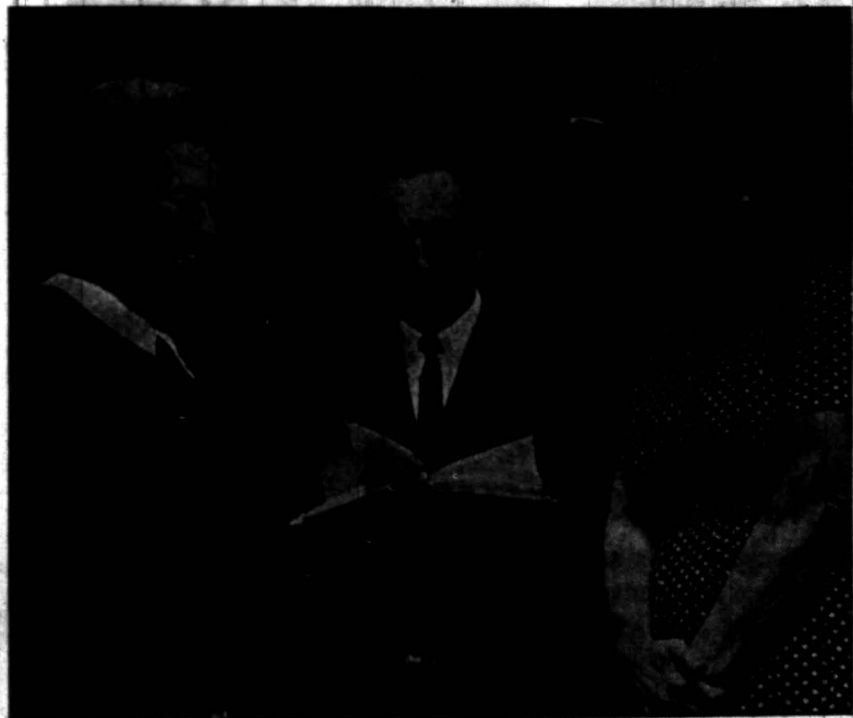

The Alcoholism Council of the Monterey Peninsula will hear Clinton T. Duffy, former San Quentin Prison warden, discuss "The Alcoholic in Trouble With the Law" at its annual meeting next Monday, March 9 in the terrace room of the Mark Thomas Inn.

Since his retirement as warden and the first prison director to invite Alcoholics Anonymous to hold meetings for prisoners within the penitentiary, Duffy has been executive director of the San Francisco Council on Alcoholism. Today, 22 years after Duffy's new approach to treatment of prisoners at the door on the evening of the reviews.

Hosts and hostesses for March 13 are Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Roberts, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds, Lt. and rs. Elmer Browning, Mrs. William Sef-ton and Mrs. Robert Martin.

Mrs. C. John Viking, chairman of the Book Review Series at the Church of the Wayfarer, and Mrs. H. J. Danelz, co-chairman, confer with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray about one of the books he will discuss in the program beginning March 13. Steve Crouch Photo

Wind IN THE Pines

BY

City Clerk Hugh Bayless reports that a man came into City Hall recently to register to vote. He got through all the preliminaries, then filled in the blank stating his party affiliation as the Prohibition Party. He left vacant the space provided for stating the voter's occupation.

When the registration got to Salinas it was bounced due to the omission. The county office sent it back to Hugh with a notation that the man's previous registration showed his occupation as "bartender."

Hugh refuses to draw any conclusions.

Realtor Dick Catlin got an interesting letter the other day. He was quite glad he picked up the mail before his wife did.

It was definitely feminine pink stationery with just initials in the upper left corner, all typed in blue with a tricky script typewriter.

The letter was a "gimmick" from some secretary, wanting Dick to write and tell her boss why he hadn't responded to earlier pleas and sales pitches.

Now Dick's wife isn't the suspicious type, but suppose some green-eyed spouse had picked up the mail, then spent the day seething, just waiting for the breadwinner to come home and explain himself. Wow!

Yachtsman Flip Hatton was seen off Point Pinos Sunday in his 35-footer "Innuendo," coming about and heading back for the harbor in the face of small-craft warnings. K. Clark on the other hand, was heading across the bay to Moss Landing with a spanking breeze aft and a crew of lubbers on his 19-foot Mermaid.

K made the crossing in a snappy two hours and five minutes, shooting the inlet there at about five knots with the tide coming out. Printer Gus Trueblood, making his first trip on a sailboat, was moved to say, "Now I know how Magellan felt."

A Carmel citizen was down at the lagoon Monday, looking at our crop of feathered "winter visitors." The wind was pretty strong, so there must have been about 200 birds sitting on the surface of the lagoon.

The citizen mused, "I wonder if Eben Whittlesey knows about all the 'bed tax' he's missing from these tourists."

DOWN TO THE SEA

BY LES BOSSHARDT, Master Mariner

"I must go down to the seas again,
To the lonely sea and the sky." — MASEFIELD

FROM THE PILOT HOUSE:
Looking over the bay Monday morning from the Pilot House, there were white horses aplenty caused by the hard Norwester that was blowing. All of the local small craft were snugged down in their slips in the marina. A few minutes before 0900 H. M. Ketch Oriole stood out of the harbor under full mizzen and when she cleared the harbor all of her working sails were raised and she was put on the wind with a hard sheet and again became a part of the sea. It was not long before she was showing her pretty heels to we who were land-bound. There is no explaining or describing the beauty of a wind ship sailing close-hauled in a good cap full of wind with her mizzen leech atremble.

NAVIGATION MADE EASY:
If one cares to keep up with the latest wrinkles in navigation, drop by Ed Muniz's Monterey Yacht Center on Wharf 2. The newest is a device by which you can dial your magnetic course from here to there in the wink of an eye. Just a graduated template pivoted to a portion of a chart. Simple and easy. Ed has done wonders with his little place in the past couple of years. He has an almost complete boat chandlery. Like Frank Cefalu's Boat Hoist, The Yacht Center is a clearing house for most of the local corinthians.

UNDER THE M.P.Y.C. BURGE:
The second sailing race of the year will be sailed on Sunday, March 15. This is a handicap race and all sizes will be entered. This is a tough race because of the fact the skipper will not know which of the seven courses laid out on the bay he will sail until ten minutes before starting time. As usual Taylor Pillsbury, in his cruiser Widgeon II, will officiate.

NAUTICAL KNOW-HOW:
If the boater would like to act like a shipmate and keep clear of trouble with the port authorities, never run faster than the prescribed speed while in the marina.

WEATHERWISE:
Our high pressure is coming

How much safety do you want for your money?

Financial safety comes in all shapes and sizes. There are safe investments and risky investments—and ones that are in between. Depending upon how much risk you want to take, your money can be invested in a variety of ways.

Your savings, however, are another thing. This is money you do not want to risk—no matter how safe the investment appears. This is money you want to be able to count on at all times and under all conditions. And when you want your money that safe and that available—you want it in the bank

Stanley Oakes Lectures At River School

With our Unified School District making tremendous strides toward early education in 20th century sciences, the individual schools are presenting a series of experts whose graphic lectures are attracting parents and teachers, as well as intriguing the youngsters.

Author-scientist Stanley Oakes, whose unique volume "The ABC's of Electricity" has won wide acclaim from educators, gave his illustrated lecture, with life-size figures of Mr. Ampere, Mr. Volt and Mr. Ohm, before the fourth grade students and visiting teachers and parents at River School last Tuesday.

Mr. Oakes, who has lived in Carmel for the past 10 years has taught in public schools in St. Louis, Mo., and in Chicago. He places emphasis upon the responsibilities of the parents in encouraging their children to 'around the dinner table discussion of their school work. Questions on current scientific fundamentals as well as development should be asked and answered.

Mr. Oakes is one of our Carmel citizens who has made his knowledge available to the Unified School District through registering as a member of the Unified School District's Community Resource File. The file is still open for registration of individuals who feel that they have knowledge to pass on in a specialized field to our children — kindergarten through high school age.

Mrs. van Loben Sels called attention to the fact that almost all editorial comment to date had avored the enterprise. The Carmel Planning Commission is to meet with the committee and clarify discussions with technicians in the complicated fields of seating capacity, acoustics, and parking facilities.

Letters of commendation and encouragement have been received by the committee, including communications from James H. Schwabacher, Jr. of San Francisco, who has agreed to serve on the Advisory Board and Senator Fred Farr (D) Carmel.

Donations from private sources have reached dimensions requiring that the funds be placed in an active account. Leet W. Bissell, the treasurer, is subjecting the funds to rigid accounting.

Dr. and Mrs. Clyn Smith, Jr., (Pamela Dormody) drink a toast to the sunny future.

Pamela Dormody Becomes the Bride of Dr. Clyn Smith, Jr.

In a Sunday afternoon ceremony in All Saints Episcopal Church, Pamela Dormody and Dr. Clyn Smith, Jr., were married, the Rev. Peter Farmer officiating, before a group of their immediate families and close friends.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Horace Dormody.

Pamela, who was born in Carmel attended Sunset and Carmel High Schools and went on to graduate from Vassar College. For three years she held an executive position in New York's Rockefeller Institute, returning to California to become administrative assistant in charge of student affairs at Stanford Medical School in Palo Alto.

Dr. Clyn Smith was born in Clovis, New Mexico, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Clyn Smith. One of the Peninsula's foremost surgeons, Clyn is a graduate of Stanford University and Stanford Medical School.

For her wedding, Pamela chose a three-piece ensemble of white Italian silk with a tiny, half veiled hat of the same texture. She carried lilies of the valley. Her attendants were, Miss Sharon Smith, (Dr. Smith's daughter) and her niece Miss Kathy Dormody. Sharon's dress was of pale blue shantung, matching her pillbox hat. She carried a nosegay of white elf roses, centered with yellow rosebuds. Kathy, as junior bridesmaid chose a frock of white pique, embroidered in pastel flowers. Her sash and hair bandeau were pink and she carried a nosegay of elf roses, centered with pink rosebuds.

The bride was given away by her father, Dr. Horace Dormody. Clyn Smith II, acted as his father's best man, while Brian Smith, the groom's younger son was acolyte.

Mrs. Dormody, mother of the bride wore a cocktail length dress of champagne toned silk linen.

A champagne reception, following the nuptials, was held in the home of the bride's parents where silver bowls of sun yellow and white spring flowers added to the gaiety of the occasion.

Mrs. Smith chose grey flannel for her travelling ensemble. Following a honeymoon in southern California and New Mexico, the Clyn Smiths will, of course, reside in Carmel, much to the delight of their friends here, who are legion.

Christian Women's Club Luncheon Next Tuesday

Neptune's Table will be the setting for the luncheon meeting of the Monterey County Christian Women's Club on Tuesday at 12:15.

Mrs. Woodrow Rood, speaker for Women's Clubs in the San Francisco Bay Area and So. California, will be guest speaker.

Also to be featured during the afternoon will be Mrs. Capple Barrett of Fresno—a model who will speak on charm.

All women are invited to attend, and may make reservations by calling Mrs. James Grooms, 372-3198. A free nursery will be provided at the First Baptist Church, Hawthorne and Hoffman streets in Monterey.

Lois Axtell of Sta. Barbara Weds Merle Pitman

At a three o'clock ceremony in Carmel Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon, Lois Rae Axtell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Axtell of Santa Barbara became the bride of one of Carmel's most popular young bachelors, Merle Pittman, the son of Mrs. Helen Pittman.

The bride, attended by Miss Barbara Brosh of Piru, chose a wedding gown of embroidered organza over ivory slipper satin. Her veil was shoulder length of illusion net, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and bridal roses. She was given away by her father. The maid of honor wore a cocktail length frock of aqua satin, her bouquet was of pink sweetheart roses. Tiny Andrew Axtell, nephew of the bride was ring bearer and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. A. Rines of Fresno, long-time friend of the bride's family.

Merle's best man was Gary Nielsen of Carmel. Ushers were Charles E. Pitman of Redwood

City, and Donald P. Pitman of Menlo Park, brothers of the groom and Dwight Axtell, Brother of the bride.

The Carmel Woman's Club was the scene of the reception for 150 guests, with the bride's two sisters-in-law assisting Mrs. Pitman as hostesses.

The bride attended schools in southern California and up until the time of her marriage has been teaching school in Santa Clara.

Merle Pitman attended Carmel schools, graduating from Sunset and Carmel High School. He went on to San Jose State and is now in the offices of United Air Lines in Palo Alto.

Among the out of town guests were the bride's parents, her brother and his family and her grandparents.

Following the wedding reception the newlywed couple left for the Bahamas. Upon their return they will reside in Santa Clara.

A gay prelude to the wedding was the buffet dinner given by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Helen Pitman for the bridal party, at the Hotel La Playa, on Saturday evening, following the wedding rehearsal.

Jo-anne Kinion

Engagement Announced

With the passing of the traditional box of candy in Graham Hall of the University of Santa Clara, Jo-anne Kinion, the daughter of Comdr. and Mrs. A. J. Kinion of Carmel, announced her engagement to Theodore Harris Davis, son of Mrs. Adelyn Davis and the late Mr. Davis, of Powder Springs, Georgia.

Jo-anne's family came to Carmel eight years ago. She entered Junipero Memorial High School as a freshman and shortly transferred to Santa Catalina School for Girls, graduating in June 1960. Two years at Monterey Peninsula College followed, during which Jo-anne was active in undergraduate organizations. She graduated with honors, a winner of the Monterey Teachers' Scholarship. During her sophomore year at M.P.C. Jo-anne attended night classes, working during the day as secretary at Santa Catalina School.

Jo-anne is the granddaughter of Mrs. Teresa C. Kinion recently of Pautucket, Rhode Island, now a Carmel resident. The bride-to-be has seven brothers and sisters, all except the baby, Todd, attending schools on the Peninsula. Comdr. Kinion is presently stationed at Treasure Island.

Jo-anne's fiancé, "Ted" is currently attending Harvard School of Business Administration, working toward his Master's degree. He is a graduate of Georgia Tech. As a 2nd Lieutenant Ted served at Fort Ord for two years.

It was during the young officer's tour of duty at Fort Ord that the young pair met. In February Jo-anne visited Boston and the engagement was announced on the east coast.

Jo-anne and Ted plan an August wedding at Postgraduate School chapel, with all seven of the bride's brothers and sisters in the wedding party.

Week March 8-14

Next Sunday will be Girl Scout Sunday and 6,000 Girl Scouts of the newly organized Monterey Bay Council will attend the church or synagogue of their choice.

The week following, March 8 to 14 will be Girl Scout week across the nation and "A Promise in Action" will be the theme for the 52nd birthday of the organization which has grown from a group of 12 girls, who met under the leadership of Juliette Gordon Low of Savannah, Georgia, to encompass more than 3½ million girls between the ages of 7 and 17 in the United States.

Girl Scouts are members of the world association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, whose member countries include 67 nations.

Health and Safety Day will be observed March 11; Arts Day, March 13 and Out-of-Doors Day, March 14.

The Carmel Girl Scout Cookie Drive will continue through Saturday.

Carmel Troop Cookie Chairmen report a splendid response, so far, but there are still plenty of cookies and the ardent young "sales girls" will be vending their sweets right up to the last minute on Saturday.

If you have not been approached, Carmel Troop chairmen are: Mrs. Joe McEldowney, general chairman; Mrs. William Askew, assistant. Also, Mrs. Henri Corbat, Troop 2080; Mrs. Robert Mullnix, Troop 2121; Mrs. Charles Mast, Troop 2084; rs. Don Berry, Troop 2114; Mrs. Walter Norwick, Troop 2028.

Also, Mrs. William Griffith, Troop 2035; Mrs. Milton Eagleton, Troop 2063; Mrs. R. A. Phillips, Troop 2069; Mrs. Kenneth Jones, Troop 2118 and Mrs. Harold Aldrich, Troop 2158.

Rags to Riches Rummage To Benefit Child Home

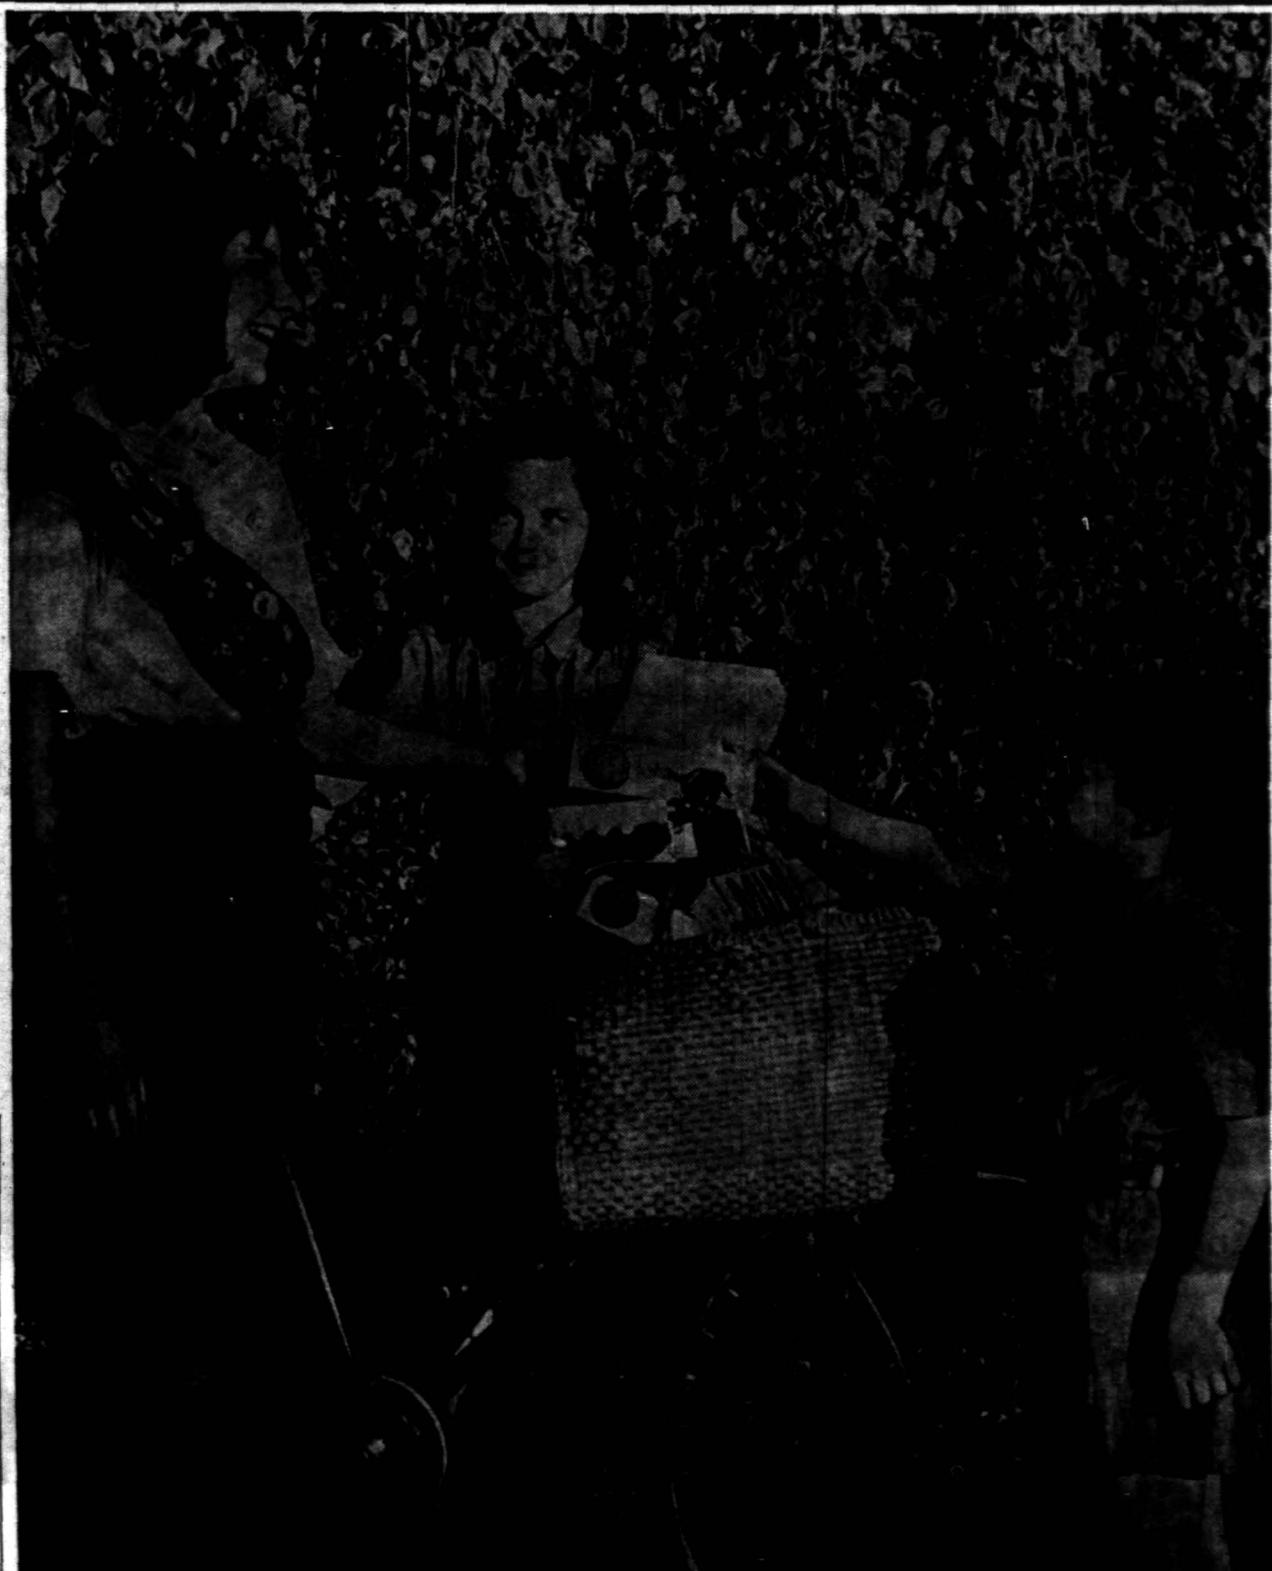

The Littlebits Chapter of Children's Home Society will hold their sixth annual "Rags to Riches" rummage sale this Saturday at Crespi Hall, Carmel Mission. The sale hours are from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. John Rennels, one of the co-chairmen, promises a fine selection of appealing bargains, including an unusual group of bedspreads and draperies of assorted fabrics.

Mrs. Raymond E. Brownell states that everything from socks to silverplate will be on sale, including many brand new articles.

All proceeds will go to Children's Home Society which maintains an office in Monterey at 499 Van Buren, to assist all persons interested in the possible adoption of a child.

● Mr. and Mrs. Will Shaw plan to leave for a three-month trip to Europe in about two weeks. Will says they will visit Spain, Italy, Greece, Egypt, Yugoslavia and France. He adds that the long time dream trip is something he promised his wife 15 years ago.

Jeanne Cooper offers a fudge-filled Girl Scout cookie to Brownies Heidi Hatten and Susan Senger with the obvious remark, "We should sample all varieties before we sell them to our neighbors." Dr. R. Gordon Agnew Speaks on Civil Liberties

"The American people are staggering under ignorance" was the thesis of a talk entitled, "Communication — the Obligation and Right of Citizens," delivered by Dr. R. Gordon Agnew Friday night in the Monterey Peninsula College Library. Dr. Agnew, chairman of the board of directors of Pacifica, stated that the American people are in greater need now than ever before for communication. Communication is one of the greatest needs of organized society. Agnew declared there are two basic problems requiring unblocking: greater information for the conduct of effective international relations, and the problem of developing creative thinking. A barrier to communication, he said, lay in the fact that man bases his decisions upon assumptions rather than upon information.

Agnew became interested in the problem of communication through his experiences in China and in KPFA, the listener-financed FM radio station.

In referring to his years in China from 1925 to 1946, Agnew found communication between East and West alarmingly inadequate. "We in the United States didn't know what was going on." With enlightened public opinion based on facts, the U.S. could have altered its relations with China. "Things happened in China that needn't have happened."

"We are afraid of other ideas," Dr. Agnew said, but the needs of today demand that we listen. Agnew finds KPFA a positive force for communication in American life. KPFA, sponsored by the Pacifica Foundation, dares to present the broad spectrum of ideas. The American people must not make decisions based on "assumptions." We must know all sides of a problem in order to make a meaningful decision. The purpose of KPFA is to discuss every important issue which could affect the lives of citizens and present every aspect of that issue. Speakers from the far left to the far right are invited to state their positions on the issue.

Agnew stated there has been difficulty in obtaining people to speak for the "far right."

Agnew looks forward to a time when radio stations similar to KPFA are operating throughout this country and in other lands. Then we can talk freely, Agnew says, and share feelings with other peoples. There will be full communications between peoples about their ideas and beliefs.

Carmel Woman's Club To Hear Les Laky

"How Laymen Look at Art" will be the subject of an address before the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday, March 16th, at 2 p.m. Les Laky, owner of the Laky Galleries in Carmel, will be the speaker.

A native of Budapest, Hungary, Mr. Laky first came to the United States as a scholarship student in the late twenties. Completing his undergraduate work at Springfield College (Mass.), he won a graduate scholarship at Teachers College, Columbia University, where he specialized in comparative education. Upon his return to Hungary, Mr. Laky became the first American trained national secretary of the YMCA. Prior to World War II he worked at the American Embassy in Budapest for three years and later became general manager of one of the leading oil concerns of Hungary. After the war, as a Red Cross delegate, in cooperation with the International Red Cross, he was engaged in repatriation work and resettlement of refugees until his return to the United States in 1949. He now devotes all his time to the promotion of art; two of his three children are students in this field.

Mrs. Romona C. Gahl, Hospitality Chairman, will be in charge of refreshments immediately following the lecture by Mr. Laky. Assisting her as hostesses will be Mrs. Ralph Heaton, Mrs. Willard Ladd; Mrs. Carl E. Rasmussen, Mrs. Mildred Rives; those missing will be Mrs. James J. Downing, Miss Marion Eley, Mrs. E. H. Ewig and rs. Norman Hiestand.

PADRE PATER

by Mary Hurn

The Junior Class is planning to hold this year's Junior-Senior Prom off campus. They would like to have it at the Mark Thomas Inn and since they cannot use class funds for an off-campus prom, they held a carwash last weekend to help raise money.

Four members of Science Club attended a Health Careers Conference last week in Palo Alto. The program included films, exhibits, a hospital tour, and lectures by guest speakers. Information was given to the students about medical careers. About 600 students attended from high schools all over central California. The students from Carmel High used the information they obtained to set up a bulletin board in Miss Sharp's biology classroom. The Science Club is planning to take a field trip in March to the weather bureau at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey.

Run-off elections were held recently for the sophomore class officers. Dan Albert was elected president and Dana Myers was elected vice-president.

The Girls' Athletic Association has also elected new officers for the second semester. The new officers are Michele Judge, president; secretary, Lois Watson; treasurer, Shirley Harrah; historian, Kathy Bingham. A round-robin tournament in speedball has been sponsored for the past several weeks by GAA. There are four teams. Captains are Lois Watson, Judi Isenberger, Shirley Harrah, with Susie Rennels and Lolita Concepcion co-captains. Last Friday, GAA sponsored a Peninsula-wide volleyball tournament.

The Constitutional Reform Committee is still busy drafting a new Constitution. The sub-committees and chairman are: Form of Government, Jim Miller; Purposes and Traditions, Buddy Smith; Finances, Tom Poulos; Relations of Clubs and Classes to the Student Body, Jay Lang; Officers and Representatives, Pam McClendon; Elections, Jeff Wright; Cheer and Songleaders, Chris Bingham; Secretarial, Daphne Myers.

Stephen Grant Wins Business Honors

Carmel resident Stephen Grant, has been lauded by his firm for outstanding sales during the recent year, it was reported today.

Grant is a special agent here for the Monterey agency office of the Prudential Insurance Co. He placed and serviced $1,000,000 of insurance in 1963.

A native of Washington, D.C., he attended schools in Yonkers, N.Y., then continued at Auburn University, receiving a Bachelor of Industrial Management degree in 1948. He attended Graduate Schools at Georgia Institute of Technology, Stanford University and Georgetown University. He also attended the Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, 1950, and the Army Language School, California, 1955, to study Chinese Mandarin.

Serving in the U.S. Army, 1940-46 and 1951-57, Mr. Grant attained the rank of Lt. Colonel.

He and his wife, Ann, have two children, Patrick, 6, and Robert, 4.

Variety in Programs Next Week at Town House

Two color films will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Deck at the Wednesday meeting at Town House. "Big Pow Wow at Gallup" will be followed by Walt Disney's "Underwater Wonderland."

The fourth foreign policy group meeting in the Great Decision series will be held on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. The problem of disarmament will be discussed, with Mrs. Rutherford Towner as leader. The meeting is open to the interested public as well as Carmel Foundation members. Tea will be served.

Reservations for the monthly luncheon are now being taken. The St. Patrick's Day lunch will be served at 12 noon next Monday.

Spanish land grants in early California were little more than grazing permits; they did not result in private ownership.

OBITUARIES

Dr. James B. Finley

With the death of Dr. James B. Finley, D.D.S. last Monday, Carmel lost a greatly loved citizen whose participation in community life covered a wide field, whose cheery smile was for all.

Dr. Finley, who succumbed in Community Hospital, following a brief illness had been a leading figure in public life on Monterey Peninsula for 40 years. He was 70 years old when death claimed him.

From 1938 until 1943, Dr. Finley was chairman of the Monterey City Planning Commission. It was in 1943 that the family moved from Monterey to Carmel.

Following the death of Dr. Harry Brownell in 1944 Dr. Finley became chairman of the Monterey Peninsula Airport District. He has been an active member of the Commission ever since.

An enthusiastic sportsman, a duck hunter who rarely missed his shot, Dr. Finley served as president of the Monterey Peninsula Sportsmen's Club and president of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Not a flyer himself, Dr. Finley was instrumental in the development of the Peninsula's airport.

He was for many years a supporter of the County Central Committee for the Democratic Party; in later years he supported Republican candidates for office.

His organization affiliations included the American Legion; Rotary; the Masonic Lodge and the Elks.

Dr. Finley leaves his wife Dorcas, a daughter Mrs. Robert Ehrhart of Walnut Creek, two grandchildren, Kathryn Elizabeth and James Michael Ehrhart; and a sister, Mrs. Annie Paul of San Diego.

The family requests that memorials be in the form of contributions to the Monterey County Heart Assn., P.O. Box 1329, Monterey.

Funeral services were held at the Mission Mortuary on Wednesday morning (yesterday) with the Rev. David Hill, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church of Carmel officiating.

Honorary pallbearers were, Harold McLain, Charles Frost, Clyde Klummann, Fred Kane, Ray Rudolph and Gabe Burnett. Interment took place this morning in Belmont Memorial Park.

Two MPC Students Win Bank of America Awards

Richard Leigh Miller of Pacific Grove and Michelle Lee Neubert of Pebble Beach, sophomores at Monterey Peninsula College, have been announced as winners of cash awards of $200 each in the 1964 Bank of America Junior College Business Awards program.

The two, both business majors at MPC, will receive their awards, with certificates of merit, at a banquet March 19 at the Hotel St. Francis, San Francisco. With them to San Francisco will go their college advisers, Bernard Revoir and Mrs. Ellen Addicott, and Dr. Frederick R. Huber, president of MPC.

The banquet will be attended by two winners—one from the business administration field, one from the secretarial, or clerical—from each of 35 Northern California junior colleges participating in the Bank of America program.

Students selected for the annual awards must have grade point averages that place them among the highest students in their academic areas; should have earned a minimum of 24 units of college credit; and should have a record of successful participation and effective leadership in extracurricular activities. Selection of winners is made by a selection committee set up at each college.

Middle East Problems Discussed in Carmel

"Great Decisions" balloting last week in three Carmel discussion groups reflected opinion on what policies the U.S. should adopt toward the seething problems in the Middle East, and unanimity was shown on only one question. This was a 100 per cent vote in favor of continuing to provide economic aid to Nasser so long as it is effectively used to raise Egyptian living standards and promote economic development. One member qualified this vote by writing in "as long as Nasser has the people in mind" and another wants the Egyptian people informed that the U.S. is aiding them.

On U.S. attitude toward Arab-Israeli hostility there was a 60 per cent vote favoring any settlement of outstanding issues that could be reached by Israelis and Arabs themselves, and that was qualified by one written-in comment as meaning Arabs individually, not united under Nasser. Another comment written in stated, "Arab unity is not essential to any end." That Arab unity should not be imposed by force was felt by 60 per cent of those voting.

No ballots were marked as favoring cutting off aid to Nasser completely nor for restricting his use of it; none for supporting Baathist claims to Arab leadership; none for opposing Arab unity because it might have interests and policies inimical to the U.S. Only one person would oppose Arab unity if it threatens the integrity of Arab monarchies whose independence is in the U.S. interest.

The Sunday afternoon group is still open for new members. Call 624-4810.

MAN

In restaurants, lunch rooms and cafes,
You see men thronging everywhere,
With food heaped high on tables and trays,
Gorging themselves on savory fare,
And wonder if man is no more
Than a stomach on this terrene shore.

You see them in stews and dens of sin,
Acting like animalic creatures,
And believe that man's essential features
Must be pudendal, without and in.

You see them in the halls of learning,
Devouring all the books they can find
With what seems an insatiate yearning,
And ask yourself if man is mind.

And then you see all kinds and classes
Praying to Heaven and soaring near it,
In churches, schools, revivals, masses,
And wonder if he is soul and spirit.

Is he all four or one alone?
Your guess is better than my own.

CAPITULATION

A shy, virgin rose
A-swoon in green bowl
Contrived, heaven knows,
To ravish my soul.

A hundred sails white
Upon a blue sea
Came near — but not quite —
Whole-capturing me.

A moon-mad song born
Of nightingale-pain
Essayed, dusk till morn,
My heart-strings to gain.

A you-bequeathed bliss,
Your self nectar-sweet...
Ah, life lacks but this
To claim me, replete.

ANY DAY WILL COME SPRING

Today the barn roofs are bare... Cascading snow disturbed the night alerting us to Spring's intention.
Between here and my neighbors' house the long line of maples hung with shining buckets tempts a leggy nine-year-old in blue leotards and red plaid scarf.
Tiptoe she tastes the maple-sweet.

The sun shines now a little every day... the chickadees, nuthatches are less insistent at the feedtray.
Last night the black Spaniel, age fourteen, forsook his warm bed and dreamful snoring rambling off on his own errands until dawn.

The tomcat had urgent noisy business next door. All of them know... Miss Tiptoe, birds, dogs, cat —
That Spring will not be long in coming now.

WE, THE LOVERS

Tender is Death
and as constant.
Slowly, surely trickles away
the water of our years.
Love is left us to bare a heart
never free
from thirst and ache
and its yearning fevers.
Love, we stand
pierced inside.
Lovers, we,
abide our hour, its glory,
alike, alive, beside!

The Two Careers
of Henry Alberts

The Chief of Instrumentation at the Research Office of the U.S. Army Combat Developments Command Experimentation Center at Fort Ord is concerned daily with highly complicated data processing recorders and other intricate devices which are a far cry from the instrument with which his early years were concerned — the piano.

A child prodigy in music, Mr. Henry Alberts gave his first concert at the age of seven in the ball room of New York's Hotel St. George, to critics only; and, by his tenth birthday, he played in a major performance of Beethoven's Concerto Number One, with the Aeolian Symphony Orchestra there, conducting from the piano. Winning the Aeolian Medal of Achievement at this amazingly early age, the young pianist was presented, two years later, with the Ohio Society Medal for Artistic Achievement. From that time, until his final performance in June of 1944, just prior to his entry into the Navy, Alberts gave a concert every year at Carnegie Hall.

From the onset of the second World War until his own enlistment, he was an active member of the American Theater wing of the Red Cross, giving performances for service audiences.

On his return from the service, he turned from the symphony to science, continuing his education at Queen's College where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in 1949 and at the University of Delaware, where he received his Master's degree in 1953. He was then employed with several private industries and Government

MPC Drama Group to Present "Twelfth Night"

Honoring Shakespeare's 400th anniversary, a production of his farcical "Twelfth Night" will be staged in the Monterey Peninsula College Little Theater on Campus March 13 to 20, Morgan Stock, MPC drama department chairman, directing.

Under Stock's direction, the romantic comedy will feature a large cast of student actors and musicians in an evening of music and comic play.

Leading roles will be taken by April Edwards as Viola; Fred Roberts, as Sebastian, her brother; Chris Smith, as Orsino, Duke of Illyria, and Olivia, by Gabrielle Goffinet.

Major supporting roles will be played by Phil Rayher as Sir Toby Belch and Ron Moore as Sir Andrew Aguecheek.

Sharon Guild will appear as Maria, Olivia's waiting-woman; Ernie Payne, as Feste, the jester; Joe Bennett as Fabian, Olivia's servant; Nick Hovick as Malvolio, a self-important steward; Glen Berwick as Valentine; Gary Pride as Curio, and Mohammed Naficy as Antonio, a sea captain.

Guitarist Roy Gaines, a student, is in charge of arranging the musical background provided by campus musicians. Stagecraft instructor Thornton Harby has designed the sets.

Curtain time each evening is 8:30. Tickets — $1 for adults, 50 cents for students — may be purchased at the theater door.

agencies as a physicist before coming to CDCEC and SRL.

He has been with this command for over a year, leading a group of scientists who plan, obtain or devise the best methods by which the mountains of data revealed in CDCEC's intensive field experimentation can be recorded. One of the latest such instruments conceived by his group is the tank gun simulator, an instrument which, when mounted on the barrel of a tank gun, gives out sound and smoke to simulate the actual firing of a tank gun.

It is a far cry from such instrumentation to Intermezzo, from concerts to computers, from the field of symphonic music to the fields of Hunter Liggett Military Reservation, CDCEC's field laboratory; but it is not so far to his Hatton Fields home where science and music blend into a rich background of knowledge and harmony for his growing family. Mr. Alberts and his wife Renee have four little girls—11-year-old JoLee, 8-year-old Nina and the four-month-old twins, Hope Anne and Jody Beth.

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

A portion of Pias Paradise, a beautifully situated property in the Sycamore Canyon area of Big Sur, was sold last week to Martin Ransohoff, Hollywood film producer. From 40-acre parcel there are magnificent views north and south along the jagged coast and the site overlooks Pfeiffer and Wreck Beaches. One hundred and thirty acres of "Paradise" are retained by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pias, where they have their home. Dorothy and Charles Pias and their daughters (Charlene, a student at Captain Cooper School, and an elder daughter, a student at Monterey Peninsula College) came to live in Big Sur about a year ago after Pias retired from 25 years in the restaurant business in Southern California. During the years they have been frequent visitors to the Sur Country and in 1952 they had the opportunity to purchase their present holding from John O'Shea, a well-known Carmel artist. Ransohoff intends to build a week-end and vacation house on his newly acquired property where he and his family can "escape" from the pressures of the film world. Presently Ransohoff is producing two TV series, "The Beverly Hillbillies" and "Mr. Ed" shows, and is simultaneously producing four movies in various parts of the world.

Miss Caryl Hill, artist, importer and owner of the Ananga-Ranga Trading Company of Monterey and protagonist in the recent Saturday Evening Post article "What are they doing in Big Sur" will be a guest on the Owen Spann radio program over Station KGO at 1:15 p.m. Friday, March 6, during which time she will be interviewed on the subject of happenings in Big Sur.

A handsome landmark, the Carl Voss home in the Coastlands section of Big Sur, was recently sold to Dr. and Mrs. Don Parker of Evanston, Illinois. The 10-room house situated on five acres of beautifully landscaped grounds will be occupied by the new owners in May of this year, when Dr. Parker, an educator, and Mrs. Parker will become permanent residents of Big Sur. Caring for the house and grounds for the next two months are Mr. and Mrs. John Treste, well-known Big Sur residents who, within the last few weeks, sold their home on the river, near the village center, to Mrs. Margaret Lial, a long-time resident and property owner in the area. Mary and John Treste find their temporary home in the Coastlands a very happy working out for them, for they can stay on in the community they enjoy until later in the spring when they will visit friends in Southern California and then begin an extended vacation trip to Canada and distant parts of the United States.

choice of filet mignon or New York cut steak cooked to order. Wandering musicians will circulate around the 24 tables, each accommodating a party of six.

Proceeds of the Parish Players' first production will go toward the scholarship funds of the Bishop Kip School and the York School for Boys.

It is the aim of Mr. Downs and Director Rudenshiold to make the Parish Players a permanent acting organization.

James Lane, a British Naval surgeon, first proved in 1747 that the addition of fresh limes and other citrus fruits to the diets of seamen would prevent scurvy.

Auditions for All Saints Parish Players Sunday

Under the experienced guidance of Charles S. Downes, instructor of English at the York School, a new theater group "The Parish Players" has been organized by the members of All Saints Episcopal Church.

Director Harry Rudenshiold, drama head at Seaside High School and long experienced in little theater production, announces that the initial presentation of the Parish Players will be Christopher Fry's "The Boy With a Cart."

The verse-drama calls for 10 male actors and five actresses. The age range is wide and all roles are vital to the presentation. Auditions will be held this Sunday afternoon in All Saints Church Hall from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday evenings, April 10 and 11 and a Sunday, April 12, matinee. The evening performances will be preceded by candle light and wine dinner. Professional chefs will give diners a American Red Cross, Carmel Chapter, ambulance in use today. A Pontiac, it was driven back from Mississippi when it was shining new, in 1958, by Bernard Roberts.

Our Carmel Red Cross Older Than The City

Article No. 1, History of the Carmel Red Cross, as it appeared in The Pine Cone, March 2, 1961. Written by Dorothy James and Helen Heavey.

The Carmel-By-The-Sea Chapter of the American Red Cross is older than the City of Carmel-By-The-Sea, but just a little. The Red Cross charter was granted on October 23, 1916. The city was incorporated on October 31, 1916. World War I evidently stirred the early citizens of the village by the sea into action and without a doubt many of the same people took part in both the big events of the community.

A framed document hangs in the Red Cross Chapter house in Carmel. It is marked "duplicate" but it means a great deal to the people of this community just as it did to those who received it from the American National Red Cross in the year 1916. It is a copy of the Charter by which the people of Carmel-By-The-Sea are authorized to operate a chapter of the Red Cross. In order to receive the Charter a group of citizens were required to petition the national organization and meet the three requirements; to aid members of the armed services and their families; to act for the Red Cross in times of disaster and to conduct a roll call for members. The original document signed by Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States; Charles McGee, Secretary, and Eliot Wadsworth, Acting Chairman, is safely kept in the National Headquarters of the Red Cross in Washington, D.C.

The people who petitioned the national organization are not known, as the records of the chapter start with the minutes of the first Annual Meeting held on October 5, 1917 at the Carmel City Hall, which at that time was an upstairs office on west side of Dolpres Street.

Young Man's Fashion Has New Manager

The busiest young man in Carmel as of today seems to be the new manager of Corinne Swallow's "Young Man's Fashion" in Lincoln Lane. Robert Curley, student of liberal arts at Monterey Peninsula College, finds the shop, catering exclusively to boys and young men, with a wide range of quality label fashions (under as well as outer wear) finds his new position a merchandising as well as a social challenge.

"Very often one parent or the other accompanies the young man in search of clothing," Mr. Curley remarked. "It is surprising, how many boys know exactly what they want and how many are aware of new fashions. Most are conservative, so we don't go in for so-called flash novelties, 'tho we do have what their elders term 'high fashions.' Sizes 6 to 20 cover a really wide range."

Mr. Curley is a native of Beloit, Ohio. He attended business college in Columbus. Upon joining the U.S. Navy he became a student at the Defense Language School, West Coast, studying Russian. "Then came service on the east coast, and 2½ years in the Orient."

While still in Ohio, Mr. Curley learned merchandising, employed in one of the state's largest department stores.

His long range ambition is to teach — Russian.

Elmarie Dyke Honored at Alcoholism Council Concert Assn. Dinner

With the magnificent sunset reflecting through the vast windows of the Woodland lounge at Asilomar, members of the Monterey Peninsula Concert Association gathered for the social hour that preceded the 26th annual dinner of the organization, last Tuesday evening. The great crystal bowls of lime punch, the St. Patrick's Day decorations and the pastel dresses of the lady guests emphasized the gaiety of the occasion.

First and foremost the evening was in tribute to Mrs. Clyde Franklin Dyke, known far and wide in the Peninsula's civic, social, educational and music circles as "Elmarie."

It was Mrs. Dyke who organized the Concert Association a quarter century ago and who has served as its president for 23 years. Tuesday evening she made her final address as president and Mrs. Le Grand G. Woolley, 1st vice-president, was named president-elect.

Some 200 members entered the beautifully decorated dining room for dinner. Officers of the Association at the speakers table with Mrs. Dyke were, Raymond Washburn, 2nd vice-president; Leonard Abinante, 3rd vice-president; Mrs. Stanley Matheson, secretary; Roudi H. Partridge, treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence Larson, campaign chairman and Fred G. Lewis, publicity chairman.

Guest of honor was Miss Alma Lauritzen, responsible for the M.P. Concert Association's programs presented to members throughout the year.

At intervals during the evening madrigals were sung by the Madrigal Singers, a group of vocalists, teachers on the Peninsula.

Following introductions of notables, guests of the Association, Mrs. Dyke paid tribute to those who through the years who have given unstintingly their talent and time to this unique organization of nearly 1,000 members.

Mrs. Dyke explained to guests that membership entitles the card holder to admission to the complete roster of concerts given by outstanding artists. "Junior" memberships, available to high school students, may be had for $4.00 each during the 1964 membership drive which will close next Tuesday.

Reports from membership drive team captains indicate that, as they have in recent years, the sale of memberships will 'go over the top' even before the Tuesday deadline.

The final concert of the current season will be held March 20 in Pacific Grove Junior High School auditorium when the Roger Wagner Chorale will be presented.

Members of the Association presented their retiring president with a corsage of white orchids and a white leather autograph book which was signed by everyone present.

facing alcoholic problems, there are more than 600 groups working on this type of therapy in jails and prisons in the United States.

Members of the Alcoholism Council of the Monterey Peninsula, which is an agency of the Community Chest, include doctors, judges, clergymen, attorneys, law enforcement officials, educators and social workers.

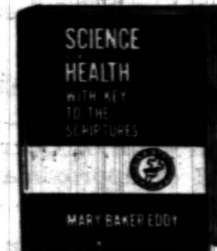

New officers and board members, from names submitted by a nominating committee will be elected at this meeting.

The public is invited to attend. Reservations should be made immediately by calling 624-2256.

EVERY ONE WHO WOULD LEARN TO PRAY

needs
book

Every right thinker knows that God is, and wants, so much, to approach Him intelligently through prayer — to commune with Him and to listen for His guidance.

In the first chapter of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy there is an inspiring and practical explanation of prayer.

A great number of people, through the study of this chapter, have found needed health, harmony, supply and well-being.

Science and Health may be read or examined, together with the Bible, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Or it may be purchased at

The replacement value (but not the price) of these four, attractive, completely furnished, one-bedroom houses is in excess of $100,000. The income potential has never been fully tested. Over the years we've often been told, "If that property ever comes on the market, let me know immediately." But, as we knew the owner would never sell, we didn't keep a list. A Pool? . . . Cool!

Horse? Of Course!

A Family Plan?

We dig you, Man!

Is your life run by teenagers? Do you ever long to lock them into a rumpus room of their own, or push them into a swimming pool? Do you ever wish they would get on a horse and go off and explore something? Well, here's good news for you! We have a post adobe on two beautiful acres in the valley that's really great. Puts kids right into their places. There's the pool. A rumpus room with its own fireplace. The master bedroom is at the far end of the house with its own patio and bath. 2 other bedrooms and another bath, and a guest house. All of this looks out on sweeping views up the valley to the south and east. You can walk to the village, elementary school, or catch the high school bus close by. Just try to match this family bargain at anywhere near our $49,500 price—or even build it for that!

A Valley move?

Mr. George Beardsley was elected chairman, and Mrs. A. P. Fraser, who was the treasurer, reported $535.79 receipts and $959.11 disbursements for the year. Christmas packets for the soldiers were being prepared and the instructions for making them, it was announced, "would be posted on the fence." The meeting closed on a sad note—Two more of our boys have been drafted. Earnest Meadows of Valley and Henry Hitchcock. Everyone who can, please turn out on Thursday morning to give them a hearty send-off.

The pioneers of the organization stand out as the leading citizens of the early Carmel. Membership on the Executive Committee was a sought after honor as 34 persons were nominated from the floor at the organizational meeting to make up the committee of 15. Fourteen were elected with three tied for the last spot. Those elected were: Mrs. E. K. DeSabra, Mr. G. F. Beardsley, Mr. P. C. Prince, Mrs. F. S. Pudan, Miss M. L. Hutchinson, Mr. A. P. Fraser, Mr. L. S. Slevin, Miss E. Harrington, Mrs. S. C. Thomas, Mrs. J. W. Hand, Miss I. A. Johnson.

During the first year, many boxes were shipped to camps and hospitals. Contents of the boxes for the hospitals were: pajamas, blankets, bed jackets, knitted sweaters, eye pads, triangular bandages, T bandages. For the camps: mufflers, wristlets, sweaters, helmets, socks (14 pairs) watch caps and "housewives" (sewing kits).

The 1918 Annual Meeting was held at the Forest Theatre. New Board members elected were: Mrs. J. G. Howard, Dr. McCollan, Mrs. Fred Leidig.

The ending of World War I did not seem to diminish the ardor of the group. Home Service took on more importance; it was resolved that "an automobile first aid box be requisitioned and installed in the Carmel Garage"; the Junior Red Cross adopted a French orphan.

The influenza epidemic prompted the starting of home nursing classes in 1920; the adopted French orphan was a topic of much discussion; funds and garments were sent for foreign relief. Nineteen hundred and twenty-three—the year of the disastrous earthquake in Japan—brought the offer of the Carmel Pine Cone to receive the donations for the Red Cross to send to the stricken country. In the same year, problems at home demanded attention of the Red Cross. Ten dollars a month for milk for the children at the Sunset School was voted and the chairman Carmel authorized "to organize classes in swimming and life saving" and also to appoint "disaster relief committee to take immediate action in local emergencies."

In 1929 Mrs. Wilson Davidson was elected chairman, and Mrs. Ralph Skene and Dr. L. A. Tower were named to fill vacancies on the Executive Committee.

During the thirties, problems of the depression occupied the energies of the members and accounted for many expenditures. In fact, the Reverend H. Grimshaw and Mr. Austin Chinn were appointed to handle emergency relief and draw on Red Cross funds as it "would be impossible to call a meeting every time a need for financial help arose." Meal tickets were printed and a closet for clothing

No Carmelite Needs to Pine for a Pine

Time was here in Carmel when one couldn't see the trees for the forest. Then Carmel grew houses and old timers cried, "Woodman, spare that tree!"

Carmel grew houses and shops and grew streets, until today we beg, "Contractor, spare that tree." Come next Christmas you may be crying, "Where oh where is just one bright young pine?"

You can be forehanded, you can be sure of, at least a little pine, all your own.

This coming Saturday is Arbor Day and Carmel's committee, Robert Strum, chairman, Richard Hittinger, Jr., Gene Ricketts and Mrs. John S. Chitwood will be in the Post Office lot from 9 a.m. onward presenting all comers with a pine tree seedling, planting instructions and all.

Plant your very own pine, for yourself, for your children and your grandchildren to enjoy. The Carmel committee will be at the lot until the supply of seedlings is exhausted. We advise you to get there early.

established. Flour received from the national organization was distributed. The chapter, concerned about the feeding of needy school children during vacation, ordered milk delivered to 21 Carmel families.

Chairman in 1932 was Mrs. Robert Stanton. Other new officers were Mr. Joseph Schoeninger, Miss Daisy Bostick, Mr. Charles Berkeley, Mr. Herman S. Grossman and Clara French Kennedy.

In 1923, a special meeting was called to consider what help the community could give to victims of the Long Beach Earthquake Disaster. $400 was pledged by the chapter, with the promise of as much more as was contributed. Tables were set up and staffed by volunteers in the bank and post office to collect contributions.

International Night At U.S.N.P.G. School

The Bali Room of the Officers Club of the Postgraduate School was the scene of a miniature League of Nations last Thursday evening.

The International Committee members, hostesses for the evening, presented the program of entertainment. Folk Dances of Persia were performed by six-year-old Mamak Nourbakhsh and Mah-bash Ardalan. Mrs. Abolfath Ardalan was assisted by Mrs. Farid Fiyouzi and Mrs. Siamek Deyhimi, all wives of Iranian students at USNPGS.

Students of the Defense Language Institute sang Indonesian songs, and Mrs. Gandasari Win, an instructor at the Institute performed the Candle Dance of Indonesia.

Philippine Dances were presented by students at Monterey Peninsula College.

A Scottish poem was recited by Isabel Buxcey of the International Committee of the OWC, she later joined Canadian Officers' wives in the singing of Canadian Folk Songs.

Exhibits were constructed by the wives of officers from other countries, representing the arts, products, and utensils of their native countries.

Dessert consisted of favorite "finger" confections from the different countries represented, and participants found printed sheets of recipes from other lands on their chairs upon entering the room.

Door prizes included a pinata made by Clara Guerola, an International wife from Peru, a cookbook, "What's Cooking Around the World," and a soup terrine and candle holder donated by the OWC.

Admiral and Mrs. Bergin, Captain and Mrs. Risser were special guests of the evening.

The concluding speech was given by the chairman of the International Committee, Mrs. Thomas Meeks.

Mrs. Abolfath Ardalan, Mrs. Farid Fiyouzi, and Mrs. Siamek Deyhimi, whose husbands are officers in the Imperial Navy of Iran and Miss Mamak Nourbakhsh, daughter of an officer in the same service.

vision, a measure concerning the disposition of the city's revenue from the hostelry tax, so that it can be amended to permit 75% of the proceeds to be used for lands and improvements for municipal purposes. Edward Burnett, representing the firm of Stone and Youngberg which prepared the report, said that they were "very conservative in all their computations" and that this was a very desirable and much more economical way for the city to acquire the property. He suggested that civic organizations be informed of the provisions of the plan.

The council also adopted a resolution establishing four polling places for the election. They are to be located at the Youth Center, the Firehouse, City Hall and in Sunset Auditorium.

In other matters, the council named Floyd Adams as the city's Director of Planning, Richard Thomas as Chief Building Inspector and William Askew to the newly created post of Superintendent of Streets and Public Works. Angelo Roman was named to Askew's old job as Street Foreman.

The council also:

Authorized the mayor and city clerk to negotiate a contract with the Carmel Sanitary District for performance of inspections by the city's building department on behalf of the district.

Agreed to spend approximately $33,000 for the improvement of Junipero Avenue from Fourth to Ocean. This includes widening parts of the section, resurfacing all of it and adding cobbled curbs. Much of the cost of the work will be paid for by monies received from gas tax revenues. It is hoped the work will be completed before summer.

Dinosaur Eggs At Pacific Grove Museum

The Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History is currently exhibiting a fossil dinosaur egg on special loan from the American Museum of Natural History. The 60-80 million year old egg was found in Mongolia with about 70 others by Roy Chapman Andrews. Dinosaurs were long believed to have been egg layers, but it was not until Chapman's discovery in 1923 that actual proof existed.

The exhibit will remain through April 5. The museum is open daily from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. except Monday. Admission is free.

Climate is the average of all weather.

Winners of 1964 Bank of America Junior College Business Awards at Monterey Peninsula College, Mrs. Ellen Addicott, secretarial instructor and Michelle Lee Neubert, secretarial major from Pebble Beach. Each MPC student will receive a $200 award at a banquet in San Francisco Mar. 19
